FAMOUS TEACHER TO PASS THROUGH

Miss Hattie Smith Hill of Columbia university, a famous kindergarten teacher whose text-books and special treatises on the education of the young are used throughout America, will pass through Ogden this evening at 6:15 o'clock on her way to Salt Lake to attend the convention of the Utah Educational society. Miss Matilda Peterson, Ogden school supervisor, and Miss Viola M. Clancy, clerk of the board of education, had prepared a reception for Miss Hill, who accepted an invitation to be their guest here this afternoon, but the train was late and the engagement had to be canceled.

Miss Peterson, Miss Clancy and other teachers will go to Salt Lake tomorrow morning.

Miss Hill will be guest of honor at several formal receptions in Salt Lake. She will deliver an address in the convention of kindergarten work.

For those who enjoy high-class entertainment, the Alhambra affords it, in music and big features. Our standard of values is established.

HOME ENTERED AT NIGHT BY BURGLAR

The residence of Mrs. J. A. Warner, 465 Twentieth street, was robbed last night, the robber securing an Elk pin, a revolver and a valuable necktie clasp.

It was at first thought that the robber entered the house by way of the front door, but later it was found that he had broken an east window, entered the house and gone out through the front doorway.

GENERAL MANAGER SEES THE TERMINAL

J. H. Dyer, assistant general manager of the Southern Pacific railroad, departed yesterday for San Francisco, following a conference with officials of the Oregon Short Line and Union Pacific concerning the future operation of the Ogden Union Terminal. He was accompanied by Supt. T. F. Rowlands of the Salt Lake division of the S. P., who was to leave him at Sparks, Nev.

William Hood, chief engineer, and J. Q. Barlow, assistant chief engineer of the Southern Pacific were expected to arrive in Ogden tomorrow, on a trip of inspection.

PROCEEDINGS OF THE POLICE COURT

Disturbance of the peace cases loomed large on the police court calendar today and several offenders were dealt with summarily. C. J. Hunsaker was convicted of creating a disturbance last night at the home of his father-in-law, George F. Rands at 1047 E. Twelfth street. He was fined $5, with the privilege of working it out.

Dave Allen and Sam Onello, who engaged in a fight at Onello's fruit store on Washington avenue, yesterday morning, each forfeited $10 bail. They were arrested by Officer Moore. Jess Rose and Thomas Burnett, who were also principals in a fight yesterday, were in court to take their medicine, having been held in jail through inability to deposit bail. Their battle was staged in the Kennedy Coffee House and was brought to a stop by the arrival of Detective Captain Robert Burk; Desk Sergeant Barlow B. Wilson and Patrolman Dan Sullivan. Rose was sentenced to pay a $25 fine or to serve twenty-five days in jail, and Burnett got $10 or ten days easier.

W. D. Sims, an alleged drunk, forfeited $5 bail. For begging on lower Twenty-fifth street, Frank Fisher, a transient, was sentenced to serve ten days in jail. He was arrested by Patrolman Walter Moore. Andrew Clark and Andrew Dierdz, plain drunks, were each given a five-day jail sentence.

P. McDowell and Bessie McDowell, negroes arrested last night at 375 Twenty-third street by Sergeant Fitzgerald, Patrolmen Canfield and Jensen and Detective Naylin, on charges of vagrancy, were arraigned and had their trials set for December 21. McDowell's bail was set at $100 and the woman's at $50.

J. R. Knott and W. R. Sell, arrested last Friday night on a charge of disturbing the peace, each forfeited a $5 bill. Joseph Peabody and Dick Cinni, charged with drunkenness, each forfeited $5 bail.

Harry Korb, charged with permitting minors to loiter and play pool in his Twenty-fifth street billiard hall, was arrested and the date of his trial will be set later.

Twenty-five days in jail was the sentence meted out to John Ord, a persistent and abusive mendicant, arrested yesterday by Patrolman William Brown, on Hudson avenue, between Twenty-fourth and Twenty-fifth street.

Ed. Smith, John Brown and William Redman, plain drunks, were each sentenced to serve five days in jail. It was five days "one drunk," ten days "two drunks" for L. J. Gregory, who was arrested on the same charge twice in one day, Saturday. On the morning of that day, Officer C. E. Layne brought him into the station, where he was booked and later released on bail. In the evening, he was again arrested, this time by Patrolman Brown.

INSANE MAN HOWLS AND RIPS OUT THE WATER PIPES

Vern Kaiser, in the county jail since November 17 awaiting trial on a charge of stealing $50 from Paul Gacheler, today exhibited symptoms of insanity, or else was doing his best to play crazy. He tried to tear his cell apart, ripped out the water pipes and howled like a savage.

Deputy Sheriff George W. Leatham tried to pacify him. "We often find them shamming in cases of this kind," said Mr. Leatham. "Ever since old Joe Barker, the horse-thief, sentenced to twenty years about two years ago, I've had my doubts of cell-room insanity until the doctor pronounces it genuine."

"Old Joe wouldn't eat. He lay from day to day as if in a trance. The officers and Dr. Robinson examined him. We didn't want him to starve, but we couldn't induce him to eat."

"Finally one day Dr. Robinson brought him out and examined him privately. He prepared a dose of something strong. 'Now, Joe,' he said, 'if you're crazy, this medicine won't affect you, but if you are sane it will certainly get your goat.'"

After receiving the dose, Barker stood silent, determined not to surrender to the medicine. Presently he began to turn white around the ears. He made a desperate effort to conquer his stomach, but directly the medicine worked with the effect of a powerful stomach-pump.

"The medicine made him sick. He was white as chalk. We laid him down and stretched a sheet over him. He looked like a dead man, but he was far from it. Then we brought out his negro cell-mate, turned back the sheet and solemnly said: 'This man was crazy. You gave him something to eat, and now see what you've done.'"

"The negro fell on his knees in terror. 'Oh—h, lawdy,' he wailed, 'what has I done? Boss, gentlemen, I nevah did tink dat poke and beans would have dat effect on 'im.'"

"Next morning old Joe was eager for his breakfast. The negro, with his customary racial generosity, had been dividing his meals with Barker all along."

WORLD'S MARKETS

New York, Dec. 19.—There was a brisk rally from the earlier irregularity of steel, Utah copper and distinctive war shares being among the first to recover at advances of 1 to 3 points. Shipping shares contributed in equal measure with petroleum, Texas company leading at an extreme rise of 6 1/2 points. Less active specialties like paper and sugar issues and the utilities were 2 to 3 points higher and motors also hardened, although subsidiaries of that group were reactionary. Some easing of prices occurred before noon, trading becoming almost motionless pending the receipt of advices from abroad. International bonds were heavy.

New York, Dec. 19.—Prices made further upward progress during the intermediate session, the movement being assisted by the news from abroad. Specialties which were heaviest in last week's decline made the greatest recoveries today. Steel led the active list, rising to 116.

Chicago Grain

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Although uncertainty and expectancy chiefly characterized the wheat market today because any word came of the nature of Lloyd-George's speech, traders inclined somewhat to the belief that his answer to Germany would not indicate a quick peace. Accordingly, buyers were in a majority and transactions did not attain much volume in the earlier dealings. The crowd in the pit was on tiptoe of interest as to the stand taken by the British premier and was giving virtually to attention to other factors. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's, finished to 2 3/4 higher with May at $1.64 1/2 to $1.65 1/2 and July at $1.38 1/2 to $1.39 3/4, were followed by substantial gains all around.

Corn hardened with wheat. Some of the larger speculators were active buyers. The opening was unchanged to 3/8c off the market scoring a moderate general upturn.

Business in oats was mostly local. The market was firmer as a result of large receipts of hogs tended to weaken provisions. Besides the prevailing sentiment was not very hopeful that the war would not indefinitely continue.

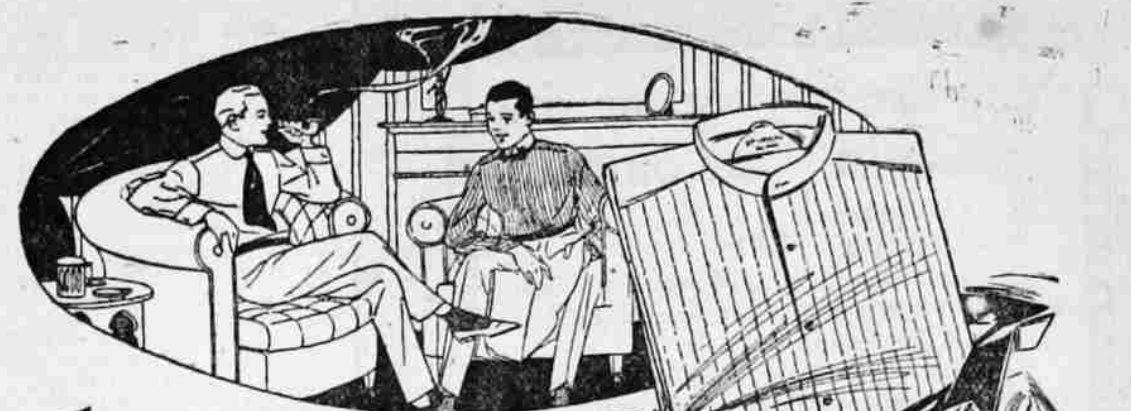

Bullish reports, giving some idea of the tenor of Lloyd-George's speech caused a sharp rise about midday. The extreme bulge was 7 1/4c but a swift reaction ensued owing to trade opinions that, notwithstanding the energetic nature of the British reply, peace was still practical if Berlin should announce definite terms. The market closed excited at 3-4c net decline to 7-8c net advance with May at $1.64 3/4 to $1.65 1-8, and July at $1.38 3/4 to $1.39 7-8.

In the late trading all of the gains were lost and more too, when wheat turned weak. The close was heavy at 1 1/8 to 1 1/2c under yesterday's finish.

Chicago Hog Market.
Chicago, Dec. 19.—Big killers were late in taking hold today and the market for hogs of light grade was a little slow, but a later demand for choice stock helped prices a little. Demand for cattle was slow and the market was easy. A larger supply than had been looked for weakened sheep and lambs.

New York, Dec. 19.—Raw sugar dull; centrifugal 5.74c; molasses 2.21c. Refined dull; fine granulated $7.00 to $7.95.

Sugar futures opened firmer with new crop position from 7 to 11 points higher at noon, while December was 4 points lower under liquidation.
